

BUILDERS LIGHTING: PROVIDING JEWELRY FOR THE HOME

FEW WOMEN WOULD EVER CONSIDER going out for an evening without jewelry. Women are well aware that jewelry enhances their natural beauty. The right jewelry also accentuates fine clothing and it makes a statement about personal taste and style.

“Lighting is the jewelry for your home,” says Nancy Brewer, owner of Builders Lighting LLC, a new retail lighting showroom at 1807 Seminole Trail beside Grand Home Furnishings. “Lighting highlights the best parts of your home. It adds warmth and a personal touch. Lighting shows off everything you have spent your money on.”

Now located in the former showroom of the Artful Lodger in the Sprint/Second Bank Building on Route 29 North, Builders Lighting is Charlottesville’s only exclusive lighting showroom, offering a huge variety and styles of lighting at a wide range of prices.

“We have searched the market in Dallas to bring in new styles and distinctive looks for the Charlottesville market,” Nancy stated. “Lighting is often the last thing people think about when building or remodeling, but it’s the first thing people notice.”

Nancy Brewer, a lifelong native of Charlottesville, has been in the lighting business for over 20 years. She has worked closely with many fine builders, designers and architects in Charlottesville, going over house plans to decide where fixtures should go, which styles work best and what sizes to use. Many builders eagerly refer their clients to Nancy for personal direction in choosing lighting to reflect their clients’ personal tastes. Nancy and her staff are comfortable working with any price range, large or small.

“Whether you are buying one light or an entire house pack, our goal is to help you make the right choices,” she emphasized. “We welcome all customers to our showroom.”

Nancy said that one of her main goals at Builders Lighting is to offer value and unparalleled service.

“Lighting is my passion,” Nancy remarked. “I enjoy serving customers and helping them with their lighting needs.”

As a Lighting Consultant, Nancy works with house plans and frequently walks homes during preliminary construction to help the builders and electricians decide what type and amount of lighting to use.

Then she works one-on-one with homeowners to select the perfect lights to accentuate their homes.

In addition to lights, Builders Lighting has a beautiful selection of mirrors, vanities, lamps and home accessories. With years of experience, Nancy knows and understands the Charlottesville market, and the new showroom offers accommodating lines.

Nancy Brewer, owner, has worked with the finest builders in Charlottesville and is eager to work with you on any of your lighting needs.

Builder's Lighting is conveniently located at 1807 Seminole Trail, at the former site of Artful Lodger .

“People don’t want their lights to look like everyone else’s. They want distinctive looks that reflect on their personal tastes,” she remarked. “We have introduced several new lines to Charlottesville that are well priced and unique in design.”

“We invite everyone to stop in and see our new showroom. We are lighting specialists and if there is anything we can help you with in the way of lighting, we would be delighted to offer our services,” Nancy emphasized.
